The Vahan and Anoush Chamlian Armenian School this week announced that it would expand its facility and educational reach with the purchase of a 2.3-acre property near its current campus on Lowell Street in La Crescenta.

Chamlian Head of School Dr. Taline Kargodorian, school board of trustees chair Artin Ghazarian and chair of the Board of Regents Sarkis Ourfalian on Tuesday visited the Western Prelacy, where they met with Western Prelate Bishop Torkom Donoyan. Also present at the meeting was Prelacy Executive Council chair Vahe Hovaguimian; Secretary and liaison to the Board of Regents George Chorbajian; and council member Gevik Baghdassarian.

The purchase of the $6.5 million property provides the Vahan and Anoush Chamlian Armenian School the long-overdue opportunity to expand its current campus and the school community the opportunity to grow and prosper. The new property will open its doors soon and will include a state-of-the-art pre-school facility.

Prelate Donoyan praised the school administration for months of perseverance and hard work and announced that an existing church on the new property will be renovated and will become the new home to the Prelacy's Crescenta Valley parish, serving the surrounding communities of Sunland, Tujunga and Shadow Hills.

The Prelacy announced that the purchase of the new property, located across the current campus on Lowell Street, came to fruition due to the tireless efforts of Bishop Donoyan, the Executive Council, Board of Regents of Prelacy Armenian Schools, the unrelenting efforts of the School Administration and the School Board of Vahan and Anoush Chamlian Armenian School, and ultimately as the benevolence and generosity of two families, who support and believe in the mission of Prelacy Armenian Schools and the Armenian Apostolic Church.

Yerevan's Response to Aliyev's Latest Demands

In his final remarks, Bishop Donoyan wholeheartedly congratulated the entire Crescenta Valley Armenian community for the opportunity to have a new pre-school and church in the near future. He called on community members and organizations to bring their complete collaboration, support and assistance to the Western Prelacy's educational and spiritual mission in order to successfully achieve this longstanding dream and expeditiously open its doors in the Crescenta Valley region.

Prelate announced that more details about the project will be publicized in the future.

Chamlian Armenian School Announces Expansion; Baghdassarian Family Makes Generous Donation Towards New Preschool Set To Open Late 2024 — On Tuesday, The Vahan and Anoush Chamlian Armenian School in Los Angeles announced its expansion with the purchase of a new 2.3-acre property directly across the street on Lowell Avenue from the current campus in La Crescenta, reports Zartonk Media. Chamlian Head of School Dr. Talin Kargodorian, the school board of trustees chair Artin Ghazarian and chair of the Board of Regents Sarkis Ourfalian visited the Western Prelacy, where they met with Western Prelate Bishop Torkom Donoyan. Also present at the meeting was Prelacy Executive Council chair Vahe Hovaguimian; Secretary and liaison to the Board of Regents George Chorbajian; and council member Gevik Baghdassarian. On Wednesday, The Baghdassarian Family announced a generous $1.5 Million donation towards the establishment of the new preschool, which will be located on the newly purchased property and is slated to open in August 2024. Hilda Baghdassarian and her two sons and daughters-in-law,—Gevik and Paola Baghdassarian and Peter and Ruby Baghdassarian—visited the Prelacy and met with Western Prelate Bishop Torkom Donoyan to present a check for their donation, becoming the main benefactors of the preschool project. Gevik Baghdassarian is a member of the Prelacy's Executive Council. The preschool will be named the Hacop & Hilda Baghdassarian Preschool in memory of their father, Hacop Baghdassarian, and in honor of their mother, Hilda Baghdassarian. Prelate Donoyan welcomed the Baghdassarian brothers and praised their generous contribution. Peter Baghdassarian said, "My father believed in the importance of education, and he was thankful that my brother and I and all his grandkids had the ability to attend Armenian schools." Gevik Baghdassarian added, "With this project, many more children will have that same opportunity." Full text of story in post.

Chamlan Armenian School's new Hacop & Hilda Baghdassarian Preschool

Through extensive research and consultation with leaders in the field, we have designed an indoor and outdoor space where inquiry-based learning in explorative spaces will prepare future generations for decades to come. A state of the art, modern, child-centered STEAM preschool, with a vibrant bilingual curriculum, to enrich the mind and hearts of our youngest learners. The institution is set to become a model for early childhood education. The Hacop & Hilda Baghdassarian Preschool will carry the hallmark of our core values, creating a vibrant bilingual learning atmosphere and inspiring curiosity and creativity among our youngest learners. Looking ahead, our goal in the preschool remains to spark a love for learning that will accompany each child throughout their educational journey. Below you can find ways to support through various sponsorship levels. Beyond the levels, we also have opportunities for legacy gifting, and naming rights of several areas in the new preschool, including indoor and outdoor classrooms, discovery playgrounds, the outdoor science center, as well as gardens that our children will flourish in.

Over $1 Million Raised for Chamlian School Expansion and Hacop and Hilda Baghdadassarian Preschool

by Asbarez Staff — November 13, 2023 in Community, Featured Story, Latest, News, Top Stories 0

Baghdassarian Brothers Awarded “Knight of Cilicia” Medals

More than $1 million was raised for the expansion of the Vahan and Anoush Chamlian School and the opening of the new Hacop and Hilda Baghdassarian preschool during a gala banquet on November 3 presided over by Western Prelate Bishop Torkom Donoyan.

During the event Chamlian benefactor Gevik and Peter Baghdassarian were awarded the Cilician Catholicosate’s “Knight of Cilicia” medals.

Attending the Chamlian School gala, which took place at the Landmark Banquet Hall in Mission Hills, were members of the Prelacy Executive Council; the Dean, pastors, and Board of Trustees of St. Mary’s Armenian Apostolic Church; Board of Regents of Prelacy Armenian Schools; and Board of Trustees of Armenian Apostolic Church of Crescenta Valley.

Prelate Donoyan and Prelacy Executive Council chair Vahe Hovaguimian present a $100,000 check to Chamlian Head of School Dr. Talin Kargodorian

Also attending the gala was the school's founding benefactor Anoush Chamlian and her family, as well as Hilda Baghdassarian, the benefactor of the Hacop and Hilda Baghdassarian Preschool, the plans for which were announced earlier this year.

They were joined by the larger Chamlian family, led by Head of the School Dr. Talin Kargodorian, the school board, teachers, staff, committee members, as well as past and present benefactors.

Following the opening prayer delivered by Bishop Donoyan, the Master of Ceremonies, well-know entertained Kev Orkian kicked off the evening's program, which included welcoming remarks by Dr. Kargodorian and school board chair Artin Ghazarian. In their messages they thanked Prelate Donoyan, the Preclacy Executive Council, and all the volunteers and benefactors for their time and generous contributions, both large and small.

Western Prelate Bishop Torkom Donoyan with Chamlian board and Head of School

They acknowledged that the idea and initiative behind the future Hacop and Hilda Baghdassarian Preschool, was Bishop Donoyan's visionary thinking. They also credited the fruition of the new preschool to the support of the gymnasium benefactors, Mr. & Mrs. Hacop and Hilda Baghdassarian's children Peter and Ruby Baghdassarian and Gevik and Paola Baghdassarian whose recent contribution will make the preschool bearing their parents' name a reality.

Bishop Donoyan then invited the Baghdassarian brothers and their families to the stage and presented the "Knight of Cilicia" medals to Peter and Gevik Baghdassarian, whose wives also received special pins.

The medals are bestowed by His Holiness Aram I, Catholicos of the Great House of Cilicia and include an encyclical, which was read by Very Rev. Zareh Sarkissian.

In his message, Prelate Donoyan commended the founding benefactors of Vahan and Anoush Chamlian Armenian School as well as new benefactors, donors, and all those who support the expansion of our schools. He also expressed appreciation for those who passionately believe in the mission of Armenian churches and Prelacy Armenian Schools under the auspices of the Western Prelacy. Bishop Donoyan also acknowledged the generous contribution of benefactors Mr. and Mrs. Varant and Houri Melkonian, who made it possible to establish the Church of Archangels on the recently acquired property, which is already operational.

Bishop Donoyan and Prelacy Executive Council chair Vahe Hovaguimian presented a check for $100,000 to the school board chairperson and the Head of School for the new preschool.

Busing, Vanpool & Carpool

Busing

Our school is happy to announce that we will offer our busing system for the convenience of parents for drop off and pick up purposes! The price for busing per child is $175 per month. Please note that utilizing a bus system will help control traffic as well as ensure a more smooth operation during drop off and pick up. School buses are also the most preferred and frequently used transportation system of commute for students throughout the country, according to federal studies. The monthly fee for choosing to utilize a school bus may also be less than the cost of gasoline for driving a private vehicle.

The bus service departs from St. Mary's Armenian Apostolic church at 500 S. Central Ave. in Glendale every morning at 7:30am and arrives at Chamlian at 7:55am In the afternoon, the bus will leave the Lowell campus at 3:35pm and should arrive at the church by approximately 4:05pm. There will be adult supervision on the bus and at the church yard during these times.

This service is offered to all Chamlian students, however, due to the limited number of seats, only the first 70 applicants will be accepted. If you are interested in enrolling your child for bus services for the next academic year, please check back here at a further date to complete the Chamlian Bus Form and deliver it or e-mail it to office@chamlian.org.

The applications are always accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.

We thank you in advance for your continued support and cooperation.

Vanpool

Our school is happy to announce that we have coordinated with a vanpool service for students residing in the Pasadena area with AATransportation.

Students who sign up for the vanpool service will be entering into an agreement with a third party company. The contract for the vanpool service will be between the Student/Family and AATransportation. At this time, the vanpool service can only accommodate 14 students. If we have a significantly higher number of interested families, we will look into contracting with another company that has a vehicle to accommodate a larger group of students.

The van will pick students up from Pasadena at 7:30am promptly. Parents must wait with their children to be picked up. The van will leave Chamlian around 3:30pm and will arrive back in Pasadena around 3:55pm. Parents are responsible to be at the meeting location in Pasadena promptly at that time to pick up their children. The cost for the Vanpool service is $300 payable to AATransportation. Once you sign up for the service you must commit to a minimum of 10 months. The applications are always accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.

We thank you in advance for your continued support and cooperation.

Carpool

In our continued commitment to reducing traffic congestion around our school and supporting environmental sustainability, we strongly encourage families to carpool. As an incentive, we offer a $40 discount on monthly tuition for every child who participates in a carpool. This ongoing initiative represents our dedication to easing peak-time traffic and promoting a sense of community and environmental responsibility. We hope you will consider joining the many families who are already making a positive impact through their carpooling efforts. To join our carpool program, please complete the Chamlian Carpool Form.

Armenian School Must Cut Enrollment or Face Closure in Fall

By AMY LOUISE KAZMIN

Aug. 1, 1991 12 AM PT

TIMES STAFF WRITER

Glendale’s leading Armenian private school has been ordered by a city zoning official to reduce its enrollment by about 100 students and eliminate its ninth grade or else not resume classes in the fall.

City Zoning Administrator Kathleen Marcus also said officials of the Chamlian Armenian School must provide more on-site parking, build another driveway and provide buses for its students to reduce traffic and parking problems around the school.

In addition, the school has been ordered to improve the maintenance of its four-acre campus and to erect a wall around the playground to shield neighbors from noise.

Chamlian’s new principal, Vazken Madenlian, promised that the school would satisfy the city’s requirements, but he declined to specify what steps would be taken to reduce enrollment.

“We are not going to close the school,” he said. “We are going to comply with all the decisions.”

Marcus imposed the conditions after a June hearing to review alleged zoning violations at the school, which operates at the now-defunct Lowell Elementary School in La Crescenta.

Chamlian’s 1984 zoning permit limits enrollment to 425 students in kindergarten through eighth grade. But in the past year, neighborhood residents began to write and call City Hall to complain of noise, traffic and older students attending the school in violation of the school’s permit.

A city inspection found that the school’s enrollment had grown to more than 500 and included a ninth-grade class of about 25 students.

Chamlian officials have applied for a permit to increase student enrollment to 600, and a hearing on the application is scheduled for Aug. 22. But city officials will not have ruled on the matter by the time school opens in the fall, so Chamlian will have to operate under the limitations of its current permit.

The school has been ordered to submit weekly attendance records to ensure that its enrollment does not exceed the limit.

Marcus, who said that older students have a greater effect on the surrounding area than younger children, added that no more than 20% of the school’s students are allowed to be in the seventh and eighth grades.

“You’re looking at different noise levels from youngsters versus older kids,” she said. “Teen-agers are more rebellious, more defiant. It can affect a neighborhood.”

Los Angeles Times

50% of the students are outside at any one time and officials also will be required to build a 6- to 8-foot-high wall along the south and east sides of the playground.

In an effort to reduce the traffic congestion around the school, the city decided that the school must arrange to have its students bused to class. In addition, Chamlian must build another driveway, hire a crossing guard, install school crossing signs and add 25 parking places on the property for faculty and parents.

“This started out as a public neighborhood school. Most of the children walked and rode bicycles from home,” Marcus said. “Now you have a lot more drive-up traffic than you would have from a public school.”

To enable the city to gauge the traffic around the school, Marcus said Chamlian must provide records each week showing how many students traveled to and from school by bus, car, bicycle and on foot.

The city has also agreed to undertake several traffic mitigation measures around the campus, including expanding several no parking zones and prohibiting left turns into the school’s south driveway during peak traffic hours.
